Boys Town Skill of the Week: Appropriate Voice Tone

1. Listen to the level of voices around you
2. Change your voice tone to match
3. Watch and listen for visual or verbal cues and adjust your voice as needed

Dear Blessed Sacrament Families,

On a number of occasions, I find others and myself in the middle of complaining about something, then stop and say something to the effect of “We could always have it worse.” I think most of us hear or see a new, tragic story in regards to what is happening in Ukraine almost daily. Thoughts of these heart-breaking stories are usually what my recent complaining gets interrupted by—at least we still have our homes, our families, our sense of safety. Lifting up my little problems in prayer for those who do indeed have it much worse is a habit I’m trying to get in to, especially during this time of Lent. Lord, please help us bear our small crosses with strength knowing they could be much more burdensome.

In Christ,

Mrs. Jennifer Tran
