Boys Town Skill of the Week: Appropriate Voice Tone

1. Listen to the level of the voices around you.
2. Change your voice to match.
3. Watch and listen for visual or verbal cues and adjust your voice as needed.

Dear Blessed Sacrament Families,

I'm going to highlight our Liturgical Music Director, Julia Lang, who is now also playing and sometimes singing for our students at daily Mass. This Monday was one of her first days, and I was amazed with how beautiful her singing was while she played piano at the same time. I waited for her to come downstairs to compliment her, and she walks down holding her adorable nine-month-old daughter. Not only was she singing and playing the piano, but she was also entertaining her baby. She will often bring a pack-and-play for her daughter to hang out in during Mass while she plays the piano. And she confessed that she had held her daughter during the entrance hymn—"God gave me a break though because it was a song that could basically be played one-handed." Any chance I get to promote life and family, I will take, and our Liturgical Music Director and part-time pianist is a beautiful example of life!

In Christ,

Mrs. Jennifer Tran
