- 2. Change your voice tone to match.*
- 3. Watch or listen for visual or verbal cues and adjust your voice as needed.*

Dear Blessed Sacrament Families,

What a day! Following an especially festive Mass this morning, we listened to our children recite poetry, expressing some of the beautiful words they worked to memorize this year. At lunchtime, Mrs. Natalie Izaguirre, our head cook, kindly baked dessert for the whole school to enjoy. In the afternoon, the third graders dressed up in their First Holy Communion attire and helped lead the Eucharistic procession through school, with the third-grade girls strewing rose petals for our Lord. Before Benediction, the junior high students led the rosary in various languages. Finally, everyone headed outside for a brief recess to end the day.

We returned home a little while ago after the First Penance service for our second graders. Congratulations second-graders! This morning I received a bag stuffed with letters from all the school students. I just had the opportunity to read through them. Children have a way of saying things: "Thank you for being at Mass and waving at me today," "I love you Saint Marie Caritas" and "You are the best principal in our school" (that one really made me laugh). My heart is so full at experiencing God's goodness on this Solemnity of the Annunciation!

In Jesus our Eucharistic King,
Sister Marie Caritas, CK
